Impacts of National Health Care Reform on Oral Health

There are important oral health elements to the health care reform law – the Patient Protection & Affordable Care Act (PPACA) – signed by President Obama in March 2010. Most significant, oral health is considered an “essential benefit” for children up to the age of 21. This is an important step in the right direction to incorporate oral health to overall health and focus on prevention of disease in our young population.

As an essential benefit, health insurance – including dental – will need to cover a core set of oral health benefits starting in 2014 through either a state-sponsored Exchange or later through private-employer sponsored health insurance. Washington Dental Service and its oral health partners will be working closely to ensure that core benefit requirements are designed to prevent dental disease at the earliest possible age.

Other Important Oral Health Elements Contained In The PPACA Law:

- Oral Health Prevention Campaign – The law establishes a five-year oral health campaign targeted at children, pregnant women and minorities.

- School-based Sealant Grants – Grants will be made available in all 50 states.

- Surveillance Activities – the Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) will update and improve Pregnancy Risk Assessment Monitoring System with a specific focus on improving oral health.

- Workforce – Oral health was called out as a special area of need, and HHS will be empowered to extend grants to dental schools.

Washington Dental Service fought hard during the health care reform debate to allow dental-only plans, including members of the Delta Dental Plans Association, to participate and compete in the Exchanges as they do now in the traditional marketplaces.

Network Quality Management

Credentialing Update

To ensure the quality of our networks and to meet our Delta Dental Association membership agreement, the Washington Dental Service quality management department closely monitors our member dentists’ credentialing files to ensure that dentists are appropriately credentialed within specific time parameters. We not only credential new member dentists, but also re-credential our current members every three years — effective on their birth dates. Please fill out your re-credentialing packet when it arrives and return it to us as soon as possible. We are also making sure that each of our member dentists has an active license and professional liability insurance policy.

As a courtesy, we contact our member doctors prior to the expiration of their policies and licenses to confirm renewals of both professional liability and dental licenses. If we find that any licenses have not been renewed before the expiration dates, Washington Dental Service will deny all claims payments until proof of renewal is confirmed. WDS contractually cannot pay any claims to a dentist with an expired license, so we recommend that you send in your renewal early enough to allow time for processing.

The Washington Dental Service quality management department greatly appreciates your taking the time to supply the required information to us in a timely manner.

If you have any questions, please contact Janee Endicott or Laura Hale at (206) 528-2320.

As a leader in dental benefit plan design, Washington Dental Service is well poised to bring our innovative and disease prevention focus to the individuals and small employers on the Exchange market.

The results of health care reform provide additional attention and exposure to the importance of oral health to overall health. Washington Dental Service and its partners will continue to be closely involved as the new PPACA law is implemented in Washington and around the country.
Washington Education Association’s

Select Dental Plan Changes for 2010-2011

The Washington Education Association’s WEA Select Dental Plan (group number 00186) for 2010-2011 is a dual-option program, meaning WEA members can elect to see either a Delta Dental Premier® or Delta Dental PPO dentist. The dental benefits for this group will remain the same. However, WEA is adding an enhancement to the program for the coming year. Effective Oct. 1, 2010, members who seek services from Delta Dental PPO dentists will have a higher annual maximum — $2,000 compared to $1,750.

The annual maximum for those members who elect to see Delta Dental Premier dentists will remain unchanged, at $1,750. No members will experience a loss of benefits. In fact, some may see a slight increase in their benefits, depending on which plan their school district chooses.

This change is being made at the request of the Washington Education Association to satisfy members’ requests for more choices in dentists. It will also help control the association’s claims costs and streamline plan administration. Group number 00186 currently has six different plan designs from which to choose. Going forward, the offerings will be consolidated to three plans.

There will be no changes to the way your office will submit patient claims to Washington Dental Service, nor will policy numbers or member eligibility change. Please note that there will be no changes to the dental plans for individuals covered by the Delta Dental PPO plan, group 00187, or the DeltaCare plan, group 00188.

If you have questions about the enhancement to the WEA Select Dental Plan, please feel free to call the Washington Dental Service customer service team at (800) 554-1907.

2010 Dental Conferences

Pacific Northwest Dental Conference
June 17 – 18, 2010

This year’s Pacific Northwest Dental Conference was held June 17-18 at the Washington State Convention and Trade Center in Seattle. Our Washington Dental Service professional relations team members enjoyed seeing many familiar faces and meeting many of you from new offices. We gave away lots of goodies and, in support of our local communities and Washington Dental Service’s “Go Green” initiative, held a drawing for a basket of goods that featured items from Seattle area businesses that offer fair trade and locally grown organic products.

You can learn more about future Washington State Dental Association events on the association’s Web site at www.wsda.org/pndc.

Inland Northwest Dental Conference
May 6 – 7, 2010

This year’s Inland Northwest Dental Conference was held May 6-7 in Spokane at the downtown convention center. Thanks to everyone who stopped by the Washington Dental Service booth and visited with Lisa and Trisha. We gave away recycled paper mouse pads and had drawings throughout the day for Weecan T-shirts. The grand-prize winner received a basket filled with items local to the Spokane area.
More Groups Adopt

Alternate Identification Numbers

Employees of the Washington Dental Service groups listed here have been assigned randomly selected identification numbers in place of their Social Security numbers. You should use the new numbers when submitting claims for your patients employed by these groups. In the event your patient has not provided the alternate identification number, you will receive it on the payment voucher. Please update your records and use the new ID number the next time you submit a claim.

The majority of new groups that have elected Washington Dental Service dental coverage since January 1, 2009, have elected to adopt alternate identification numbers. Please see New Groups on page 7 for a list of new groups that have been implemented since April 2010.

Washington Dental Service will notify you of new groups that adopt the alternate ID numbers in future issues of this newsletter.

SmileStones Booklets—
Now Available to Share with Patients

SmileStones is a new booklet that outlines a child’s oral health milestones, discusses why nutrition matters, and how a parent’s oral health can affect their child’s oral health. It also shares tips to prevent tooth decay and reinforces the message that all children should get their first oral health screening by age one. SmileStones is geared to pregnant women and families with young children—from infancy to 6 years.

Cavity Free Kids:
Oral Health Education for Young Children

What do glitter, black pepper and soda have to do with oral health? They are all ingredients used to illustrate how germs transfer from one person to another and how tooth decay takes place over time.

Cavity Free Kids, a curriculum developed by Washington Dental Service Foundation, uses fun activities and songs to teach young children, ages 0 to 5, and their families about the importance of good oral health. Habits learned early in life, such as eating “tooth healthy” foods, brushing teeth after meals and knowing the importance of going to the dentist, are habits that can last a lifetime.

The Cavity Free Kids curriculum and training is just one of the many programs developed by WDS Foundation, a nonprofit funded by Washington Dental Service that executes the shared mission of eliminating oral disease to improve overall health for everyone. Since 2000, Cavity Free Kids (CFK) has been used in child care centers and Head Start programs across Washington. Teachers in more than 85 percent of Head Start programs have been trained, and children across the state continue to learn about oral health through fun-filled, hands-on activities. The CFK curriculum supports Head Start’s requirement that enrolled children have dental exams within the first 90 days of the program.

Cavity Free Kids improves oral care, as well as eating habits in the classroom and at home. The curriculum also increases children’s, families’, and teachers’ understanding of the disease process that causes cavities, as well as provides greater comfort with visiting the dentist and engaging in preventive care.

Cavity Free Kids includes materials and methods for incorporating oral health education into a variety of settings — including parent meetings, home visitation programs, preschools and elementary schools, and even the clinic waiting room. Examples of CFK activities include:

- Germ puppets – Use ordinary items like toilet paper rolls, old socks and craft sticks to create imaginary germs inside children’s mouths and discuss how those germs can damage their teeth.
- Bibs and masks for a mock dentist visit – Use ordinary supplies like paper towels or coffee filters, yarn, glue and collage materials to make bibs and masks to simulate visits to the dentist’s office through dramatic play.
- Story of “Diente Tooth” – Use a pattern, cut pieces of felt or paper to tell a pre-scripted story that emphasizes the need to brush teeth twice a day.
- CFK booklet — Includes various songs in English and Spanish to emphasize the need to brush and other good oral health habits.
Dental offices may use activities from the Cavity Free Kids curriculum to educate children and families on why oral health is critical to overall health, the importance of early intervention in establishing good oral care and eating habits early, how tooth decay may be prevented and other important topics.

For more information about Cavity Free Kids or to obtain copies of activities, call (206) 528-7339.

Claims Processing Tips

You can help ensure that your treatment claims are paid quickly and accurately.

- Be sure to enter the procedure code, tooth number and/or quadrant (if required) in the appropriate field of the claim form. By doing so, you will help ensure that all of the necessary information is recognized by our system.

- Washington Dental Service is in the process of converting covered members of all of our employer groups to randomly selected alternate identification numbers in place of Social Security numbers. If you have patients who are covered under any of the groups that have already been converted to alternate ID numbers, please be sure to submit these new ID numbers on the claims.

Process Change – Incorrect Claims

Washington Dental Service has implemented a new policy regarding the adjustment of claims that have been submitted with incorrect information, e.g., incorrect tooth numbers, incorrect patient names, etc. If you need to have a claim adjusted because the original claim had incorrect information, you must now submit a new claim with the correct information and indicate that it is a corrected claim, e.g., Resubmission, Reevaluation or Reconsideration.
The Institute for Oral Health will host its fifth annual national conference at the beautiful FireSky Resort & Spa in Scottsdale, AZ, on October 28 and 29, 2010. The conference will bring together nationally recognized experts in oral health care from academia and private and public health disciplines. This year’s conference will feature presentations and discussions focusing on Oral Health in Healthcare reform: How will reform affect care, delivery of care and oral health care reimbursement. As this is a broad and fluctuating landscape, we will revisit our previous themes: children, seniors, and periodontal disease and diabetes, as well as quality and metrics, as foundations for our discussion. WDS member dentists are invited to attend.

This year’s speakers include:

Burton Edelstein, DDS, MPH — Founder & Chair, Children’s Dental Health Project; Professor of Dentistry and Health Policy, Columbia University

Shelly Gehshan — Director, Pew Children’s Dental Campaign, Pew Center on the States, The Pew Charitable Trusts

Joel Berg, DDS — Professor & Chair, Dept. of Pediatric Dentistry, University of Washington

Douglas Berkey, DMD, MPH, MS — Professor, University of Colorado School of Dental Medicine; Dental Director, Total Longterm Care of Colorado

Joseph Errante, DDS — Vice President, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts

Michael Helgeson, DDS — Co-Founder and CEO of Apple Tree Dental, Minnesota

Terry O’Toole, DDS — Director of Dental Healthcare Analysis, Veterans Affairs Office of Dentistry

Maria Ryan, DDS, PhD — Professor & director of Clinical Research, School of Dental Medicine, State University of New York at Stony Brook

Please pass this information on to your doctors. The conference offers CE credits for dentists. For more information and to register, visit the Institute for Oral Health Web site. www.IOHWA.org. Registration closes October 22.
